INFRACTIONS AND SANCTIONS

Mexican laws establish, among others, the following penalties and sanctions related to incorrect goods importation into the country:

- Failure to declare upon entry or exit from the country cash amounts, national or foreign checks, money orders, or any other receivable documents, or a combination thereof, exceeding the equivalent in the currency or currencies in question of 10,000 (ten thousand) United States dollars, will be subject to a fine ranging from 20% to 40% of the amount that exceeds said limit, and corresponding criminal penalties will be applied.
- Goods introduction or extraction from Mexico, using deceitful methods to hide items, when their import or export is prohibited, restricted or subject to tax, will be punished with fines ranging from 70% to 100%, of goods commercial value.
- Total or partial payment omission of foreign trade duties. If it is only a duty omission and the goods do not exceed a total value of 3,000 (three thousand) United States dollars or its equivalent in domestic currency, the penalty will be up to 16% of the value of the items. Once the duties and the fine have been paid, Customs Authority will make the items available to the passenger.
- If the documentation required by the Customs Law to prove that the goods were submitted for customs procedures in order to enter the country, is not exhibited, a precautionary seizure of the non-declared goods as well as the means of transport, in case the passengers entered the country by land, will proceed.
- For non-declared items which do not comply with regulations and restrictions other than duties, abandonment can be declared once the corresponding fine is paid.
